

Iris Hatfield will be speaking at the MidWest Homeschool Convention

<http://www.cincinnatihomeschoolconvention.com/>

Topics and Times:

(A) Why, When and How to Teach Cursive (April 17 at 7:00pm)

Iris Hatfield, the author of New American Cursive Penmanship Program by Memoria Press will give you easy tips and tools to help your child produce legible, fluid cursive. She will explain why cursive is necessary to a child's complete education. The simple NAC Penmanship program improves the process of teaching handwriting and allows students to start at a younger age. Bible verses and character building quotes are used to practice handwriting skills. Very few things help enhance a student's academic self-respect more than the development of good penmanship.

(B) Cursive Handwriting Made Easy (April 18 at 4:00pm)

Learning cursive is child's play - don't over complicate the process. A child does not need to know how to print perfectly to learn cursive. Iris Hatfield, the author of New American Cursive Penmanship Program by Memoria Press provides great tips to make it easy on you and your child. She illustrates how Bible verses and character building quotes can be used to practice handwriting skills. This program is effective because of the simplicity of the alphabet and ease of instruction. Questions about handwriting concerns are invited.